

circle round the sun

lie awake watching shades that will shape endless days begged to stay at the frayed ends of your well constructed stance what we call our own can vastly bloom

'til it gets so overblown

you're not the only one life keeps circling 'round the sun (though) it seems for lonely ones there's no place to be
there's no space to breathe

so dedicated and totally strained who can set the right priorities?

on what we did rely can vastly rise
'til it gets so oversized

life keeps circling 'round the sun (though) it seems for lonely ones
there's no place to be

life keeps circling 'round the sun

so please keep circling 'round the sun in time, even for lonely ones comes a place to be comes the space to breathe
