[covered with silence a try to grip reality whatever this means fooling oneself seriously this piece fits in the way it differs yes it's now to prove yourself once experienced thus infected the end is not to avoid truth lies in the observer's eye]

wherever i go the sun it follows me happy people meeting at my car didn't you know i've become famous for selling the sweetest stuff around now come on over tell me what you would like to have and i'll make sure that you'll get it so tasty and cold have you ever had such good ice cream so far?

hold you down knock you out yes i'm going to kill you cut you up cut out your tongue and store you in my freezer so there you'll lay among the others sweet the pain while i'm cutting no guarantee on easy dying no one hears you scream my friend wherever i go the kids they follow me standing next to my car

for storing the sweetest stuff around now come on over tell what you wanna have and i'll make sure you'll get it
such fine ice cream so far?

cut you up cut out your tongue and store you in my freezer
so there you'll lay among the others.

uncut

uncut - we've got something to say uncut - listen as we speak your words are not honest your promises are fake you're not worth trusting when act like a snake this words concern you directly what the hell can you offer us? are there any facts to present beside all this liberal stuff? i am so tired of your politricks i am so sick of this election shit listen to this

uncut - we dare to make mistakes nobody is perfect not even you no one knows everything don't tell us you do these words concern you directly what can you do for guys like me? if you really got anything to say speak in words we all understand now you'll have to take a stand no promises only facts

uncut - you'll need to put it straight we are the future do you give a fuck? if this is our future then it sucks.
